Description

Ashley is home to four parks. Ashley Memorial Park consumes an entire block within the center of town where the smiley face water tower is located. Sunset Park is a 12 acre park located in the southwest corner of town. The park has two baseball diamonds, tennis court, three basketball courts, three pavilions, three shelter houses, a pond, and a half mile walking trail. John Carpenter Field is a ball diamond located on the north part of town. The main community event is the Ashley-Hudson Festival, which is held annually on the first Saturday of August. This event is facilitated by the Chamber and includes day long events in both communities. The Ashley Community Center houses the Ashley Gym & Fitness Center and has exercise, cardio and weight equipment and training programs available.
