Description

Although it roughly marks the halfway point between the Midwestern metropolises of Chicago and Cleveland, the Hampton Inn® Auburn is certainly a lot more than simply a stop along the way. This town is historically known as the home of the Auburn Automobile Company, a car manufacturer that went out of business in the 1930s. Because of this legacy, car enthusiasts flock to our hotel in Auburn for classic car shows, festivals, and automobile-themed events throughout the year.
