Description

Embark on a journey through Auburn's rich history, where each step unveils the legacy of pioneers and visionaries. Explore the DeKalb County Courthouse, witness the grandeur of the E. L. Cord Estate, once home to the mastermind behind the iconic Auburn, Cord, and Duesenberg automobiles. Pass by the residence of Morris Eckhart, whose family ignited the legacy of the Eckhart Carriage Company in 1896. Marvel at the estate of U.S. Congressman James T. Farley and discover the historic Eckhart Library. This self-guided walking tour encompasses 44 remarkable locations, all erected within the first three decades of the 20th century, epitomizing the opulence of Auburn's transportation heritage during its "Golden Age." As you stroll through Auburn's streets, you'll be transported back in time, reliving an era when Auburns, Cords, and Duesenbergs roamed freely. Enhance your visit to DeKalb County's museums with this immersive experience, delving into a bygone era where innovation and prosperity shaped the landscape. Uncover more intriguing historical sites in DeKalb County, immersing yourself in the tapestry of its captivating past. [dflip id="7066" type="thumb"][/dflip]
